

Supply List for Fallen Leaves

The colors listed are the ones used in the class sample. You may choose different yarn colors than the class sample. The class sample uses a yellow-green family and a blue-green family of yarns for a monochromatic^[1] color scheme. Any hue^[2] or combination of hues may be used instead of green. Perhaps blue-violet and violet? Perhaps red and gold representing autumn leaves? When substituting colors, please note the number of shades from light to dark required. A minimum of six shades are needed for one hue and four shades for the second hue.

 Note: Appleton crewel wool is sold in skeins and hanks. The quantities below refer to the smaller skeins. Be sure to specify crewel when placing an order. Appleton also makes tapestry wool in the same range of colors. Tapestry wool is too thick for linen twill.

Fabric

18 x 18 inch square with edges zig-zagged or serged on a sewing machine or overcast by hand to prevent raveling

If not working border around entire sampler

- 6 x 6 inch Doodle cloth (muslin works well or use extra linen twill) in a small hoop, for working a 3" border sample if you choose NOT to work border around entire sampler

Students will also need two (2) pair of 18 inch long stretcher bars. While not technically a supply, not everyone has then on hand or access to a local source of stretcher bars so they may wish to order them when ordering supplies.
